Modern Spartan Systems Unveils “Spartan Accuracy Oil” Industry-Changing Technology that FAR Outperforms the Competition & Increases Accuracy

Suwanee, GA – Modern Spartan Systems LLC., manufacturer of today’s most technologically advanced firearms cleaners and lubricants, has unveiled Spartan Accuracy Oil, the first offering in a bold new system of products designed to extend the life of your firearms and increase their functionality in terms of Accuracy, Reliability, and Performance.

Bold claims from a new company are nothing new to the shooting industry. MSS backs those claims with proven performance! Visit Spartan Accuracy Oil Friction Test and watch as Spartan Accuracy Oil destroys the competition in head-to-head laboratory testing! Spartan Accuracy Oil brings new technology and a completely new outlook to firearms maintenance and optimization.

Friction is the number one enemy inhibiting shooting performance. The traditional battle against friction has been waged using surface oils, which create a slippery wedge between two metal objects. At best, friction is minimally reduced and lasts only for a few shots before high pressures and temperatures carbonize, remove and nullify the lubricant. The intended goals are simply short lasting and contribute to the build-up of contaminants inside the firearm, which can ultimately cause malfunctions. Spartan Accuracy Oil from MSS uses a unique technology to defeat friction; thereby improving your accuracy and reducing malfunctions on any weapon system.

The proprietary formula uses Nano Shield™ molecular particles with heat activation to penetrate and fill in pores and gaps in the metal substrate. Effectively, microscopic mountains are reduced to flat plains, minimizing the points of contact. The smoother, harder surface has been shown to reduce friction by up to an astonishing 85-90%. Whether during a hunt, at a competition or in the heat of battle, Spartan Accuracy Oil can make a critical difference to you - the shooter, and an even more critical difference to the target!

The following testimonials were received from professional shooters that have personally tested Spartan Accuracy Oil:

"I have never used or even heard of products like these. MSS is so advanced that it will change the industry!"

“We have consistently attained higher velocities, smaller shot groups, cleaner operation and overall greater accuracy from all weapons”

“I was amazed not only by how smoothly the weapons all cycled, but how it reduced the heat.”

“This stuff not only makes a gun shoot better, but using it all the time makes clean-up a breeze! I’ll never use anything else.”
